

Metal Theft

Aaron Metals takes proactive measures to address the metal theft crisis.

Our position is that we have the right to ask the seller where they acquired the scrap material they are trying to sell. If sellers cannot provide us with what we feel is a legitimate explanation for how they have obtained the material - we reserve the right to reject any or all of their scrap.

In addition to a state driver's license, we may ask for a business card, contractor's license, union dues receipt, journeyman's card or business license from the city in which you operate.
